Bonds Are Steady.

Particular strength was shown by Canadian Pacific, Delaware and Hudson, nadian Pacific, Delaware and Hudson, Harvester, New York Central and Can. Bonds were steady.

Buying for the long account became more of a factor once the market turned upward definitely and further progress was made. Realizing was encountered in various stocks, as well as intermittent pressure from speculative sources, but without lasting effect.

Despite the uncertain feeling abroad, foreign representatives bought 10,000 shares here.

Once again the failure record for the United States discloses progressive improvement, commercial defaults during May, as reported to R. G. Dun & Co., making the best exhibit of the year from a numerical standpoint, and also showing some contraction as compared with the corresponding period of 1913. Thus, there were 1,221 business reverses last month, as against 1,336 in April, 1,464 in March. 1,505 in February and 1,857 in January, while in May, a year ago, 1,246 concerns were forced to suspend.

All of the decrease from 1913 was confined to the trading class, in which the losses numbered 833 in comparison with 888; manufacturing insolvencies, on the other hand, were slightly larger-322 against 313—and among agents, brokers and firms of a similar character there were no less than sixty-six failures, or twenty-one more than last year. OLD GRADS ASSEMBLE AND MIDDIES DRILL Thunderstorm Mars Some of June Week Exercises at Naval Academy.

ANNAPOLIS. Md., June 4 .- Old "grads" from as far back as early fifties are gathand business meeting and the banquet cers' mess was the rendezvous for the swapping yarns and relating the incidents of their days as midshipmen when the Naval Academy was but a small institution compared to its greatness of to-

It was expected that this year's reunion would be a record breaker in point of at would be a record preamer in point of at-tendance. Many classes had planned to hold separate gatherings, in addition to the general affair, but because of the presence of so many ships in Mexican waters many are prevented from attend-

Rain Spoils Costumes.

A sudden thunder shower, with a treeffect of the final competitive drill at cidentally ruined more June-week costumes than have hitherto appeared on the big parade ground.

Despite the fact that water is the natural element of the navy folk, sheets of water interfered with the execution of infantry tactics, on which the glory of infantry tactics, on which the glory of carrying the brigade colors of the next year hang, and so the drill was stopped, the companies were ordered to shelter and the gallery of spectators escaped from the rain in every available spot. The middles were thoroughly drenched, the officers' fresh "whites" all spoiled and the instruments of the band so filled with water that the musicians were dismissed, and when the shower ended the drill was resumed without any music.

Will Select Color Sponsor.

This afternoon the winning company will be announced. The commander of that lucky unit of the brigade will choose the color sponsor, and at dres parade this evening she will presen the colors to the captain of the winning Tonight the first class german will be held in the gymnasium. Dozens of decorators are at work today transforming the hall into a bower of beauty, arranging pockets of confetti which will be showered upon the dancers, and be showered upon the dancers, an making other plans for surprising the guests of the evening.

WEATHER.

Unsettled Tonight and Friday, Probably Occasional Showers.

For the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia, unsettled tonight and Fri day, probably occasional showers; moderate winds, mostly south.

Low pressure persists throughout the west and a narrow tongue of depression has shot eastward over the lake region. At the same time there was a sharp increase in the high area east of New England, with the result that the showers that continued over the west have extended eastward through the lake region and upper Ohio valley to the Atlantic coast, with a sharp fall in temperature to the northward. There was no other precipitation east of the Rocky mountains, except some local showers in the south.

Unsettled, showery weather will prevail quite generally tonight and Friday east of the Mississippi river without decided temperature changes.

The winds along the New England coast will be moderate to feet the coast. will be moderate to fresh east to south-east; on the middle Atlantic coast fresh and mostly south; on the south Atlantic coast moderate southeast to south; on the east gulf coast gentle to moderate

ENSIGN NOW GETS BLAME

Commander Dempf Recommends That Crawford Be Given Public Reprimand.

Blame for the grounding of the U. S. S. Sylvia, training ship of the Naval Battalion of the National Guard of the District of Columbia, has been placed on Ensign Harold Crawford, who was officer of the Today—Low tide, 10:55 a.m. and 11:00 deck at the time the vessel poked her nose into the sand last Friday evening near Upper Cedar lighthouse, about fifty miles down the river. The heard of the work of the control of the sand last friday evening near Upper Cedar lighthouse, about fifty miles down the river. The heard of the control of the sand sand the control of the miles down the river. The board of in-quiry appointed by Commander Joseph A. Dempf, commanding the Sylvia, im mediately following the accident, recon-1:20 p.m. vened Tuesday and reconsidered the evidence in the case. Its original report lefts 7:20 p.m. and recommendations absolving Ensign Crawford from blame was recalled, and a new report written.

In the new report which will be sent immediately to the Navy Department for final action, it was declared yesterday, the accident was blamed on the work of Ensign Crawford in running courses dangerously close to the channel's edge. The board of officers recommended that he be cautioned about this sort of navigation of the vessel in the future.

Reprimand Recommended. In approving the new report of the board, Commander Dempf recommended from clerical labors in the office, octo the department that Ensign Crawford cupied seats in the grandstand at the be given a public reprimand. In view of the fact that the ship was not injured in any manner whatever, it was declared to be the belief of the commanding officer that a public reprimand would be sufficient to insure that there would be no repetition of steaming close to the end of the river channel. to the end of the river channel.

The original report of the board, while absolving Ensign Crawford from all blame, also provided for cautioning him against steering so-called close courses. At that time it blamed the accident on the official charts of the coast and geodetic survey which were declared to have been wrong. Ensign Crawford, in his testimony, blamed the accident on the charts and the fact that the steering gear and engines did not respond quick enough, the coast of the coast of the coast of the coast of the west led him to seek a transfer, and he was sent to Montana, where he is now stationed. The fact that they were separated by a good many hundred miles failed to weaken the affection between Boree and Miss Lump-charts and the fact that the steering gear and engines did not respond quick enough. and he was sent to Montana, where he is now stationed. The fact that they were separated by a good many hungle of the faction between Boree and Miss Lumpkin, and yesterday the latter relinquished her position and left for St. Louis. She is to meet Boree there this evening; the couple are to be married at once and they will then go to Montana. Plans for the wedding were kept a secret, and only a few of Miss Lumpkin's most intimate friends knew of her purpose of resigning and joining her fiance in the west.

his death, March 18, 1911, rated as a multimillionaire, died comparatively poor, if property and securities left by him in New York are to be taken as a fair basis of estimate. The report of the appraisal of Mr. Moffat's estate filed in the transfer tax office yesterday showed that by his will be had made bequests of several millions of dollars whereas the estate is now indebted to the National Bank of Commerce for $100,000, due on a loan amounting to $2,000,000.

J. Moffat's estate in New York was appraised at $15,877.75. This represents an equity in 175 shares of stock of the National Bank of Commerce, which with other collateral were put up to cover a $150,000 loan made by the First National Bank of New York. Other collateral consisted of 1,000 shares of stock of the First National Bank of Denver, and securities of a Chesapeake Beach resort. The appraisers declared these securities were "nominal."

Jenus Announcement was made at the smoker of the Washington Florists' Club at Gude Bros. hall Tuesday evening, that the club had completed arangements for a sea trip to Boston, August 14, for its members and their families, in connection with the national convention of florists in that city.

of the Western Maryland railway for February, March and April was issued yesterday, and some surprising figures are shown. Since the statement showing the earnings for January last was issued no figures have been given out by the road. This has caused a great deal of comment, From a deficit in net operating revenue of $300,163 for the month of February, a net revenue of $30,26.27 in April is shown. This was brought about mainly by decreasing the maintenance expenses nearly $200,000 and increasing the gross revenue more than $100,000.
